

Publication

SOCCER LADUMA

Page

2

Date

Wed 04 Dec 2019

AVE (ZAR)

9175.29

Varsity star set for Sundowns shot

The 2019 Varsity Football Player of the Tournament, Lindani Nkabinde, is set to get the chance to prove his worth to Pitso Mosimane at Mamelodi Sundowns as he seeks a shot at professional level.

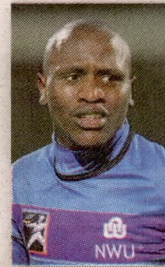

Nkabinde was in fine form for North-West University earlier in the year as they reached – and won – the final of the Varsity Football tournament, and 'Djemba-Djemba' was rewarded for his performances with the top award once it had come to an end.

Now, with NWU competing in the University Sports South Africa Football Tournament this week, Nkabinde has something to look forward to as he sets his sights on landing a professional contract in the new year.

The 24-year-old, who is studying sports science, is set to join up with Mamelodi Sundowns after the USSA tournament this week, although the reigning Absa Premiership champions are apparently not the only club keeping an eye on him.

The player's representative, Gerald Baloyi of Vodia Players Management and Marketing, told the crew, "It's an exciting time for Lindani – he's going to go and train with Mamelodi Sundowns after the USSA tournament this week, and there's also been some interest from elsewhere in the PSL too. We'll see how things go for him."

Lindani Nkabinde

It is also thought that Highlands Park, who have another former Varsity Football star, Mokete Mogaila, on their books, have also shown an interest in the defensive midfielder as he contemplates his future.